Alexander Sullivan's Bank Account and Checks to Be Looked At.

The Clan-na-Gael's Steel-Clad Oaths May Help Shield the Assassins.

Renewed activity on the part of the Chicago authorities to fasten the responsibility for the murder of Dr. Cronin upon the members of the Clan-na-Gael triumvirate is particular. ly gratifying to the Eastern members of the Bociety.

From the very first they have been conrinced that the crime was instigated by Dr. Cronin's personal enemies in the West, and it is a well-known fact that Alexander Sullivan, the ex-President of the Land League, was among the most bitter of them.

The first step in the direction of clearing up the doubtful relations of Sullivan and a few of his friends towards the crime was the placing he leader under police surveil ance. His every movement is watched still, and he is not for a single moment permitted to go out of sight of the detectives who are employed to shadow him.

The authorities are now investigating Devoy's charges of embezzlement, which were supported and pressed by Dr. Cronin, against Sullivan and his two cronies, Michael Boland

The funds belonged to the Clan-na-Gael Society and had been appropriated for the carrying out of the physical force campaign in Ireland. It amounted to about $100,000 in all, and was paid over to Sullivan by Patrick Egan while he was in exile in Paris, to enable the preparations for the campaign to be car-ried out in this country.

WHAT BECAME OF THE $82,000 ? WHAT DECAME OF THE $82,000 f.

It has already been discovered that Sullivan, who took charge or this large fund, only turned over $18,000 of it to the Can-ma-Gael, and what became of the other $82,000 has never been satisfactorily explained. This is what Dr. Cronin was working on for years, and he had, it is said, the complete proof hat Sullivan and his clique had mis-ppropriated the money, and that it had never been paid into the treasury of the Clan-ma-Gael. into the treasury of the Clan-na-Gael. WILL THE BANK BOOKS EXPLAIN IT?

WILL TRE BANK BOOKS EXPLAIN IT?

As a result of the present investigation it has come out that his $82,000 was deposited by Sullivan in the Traders' Bank of Ch.cago, which not long ago went into bankruptcy, and now an examination of the books is being made to discover what became of the money.

Dr. Cronin, it is said, made an examination just before his death, and by that means completed the proof which he lacked against Sullivan and his association of their dishonasty and crookedness. Now, Mortimer Soanlan, a friend of Dr. Cronin, who assisted him in making this investigation of the books of the Traders' Bank comes forward and offers to submit proof, by means of copies of checks and drafts upon Sullivan's private account in the bank in question, that the money was all drawn out by him and never accounted for.

What was done with it is still a mystery, for the checks show nothing, but it is claimed that it never went into the treasury of the Clan-na-Gael, where it belonged, and the only evidence that it was not used for private only evidence that it was not used for private purposes is the sworn statement of a witness who appeared before the Clauna-Gael Investigating Committee, of which Dr. Cronin was a member, that the money was bonestly disposed of. Even he did not account for it any more definitely than this, and it was on the strength of this statement that the majority of the Committee, who were friends of Sullivan, made a report in which the defendants were completely exponented.

sullivan, made a report in which the defendants were completely exonorated.

'I hat Dr. Cronin emphatically dissented from this whitewashing operation is shown by the vigor of his minority report in which he finds the defendants guilty of all the charges made by Devoy, and his subsequent investigations enabled him, it is said, to fully substantiate their truth. THE GRAND JURY MAY REVIEW IT.

The probability is that this evidence will that the most sensational developments will

In any case, with the suspicions which now sest upon Sullivan, and which are daily be-coming stronger and stronger, it is thought to be impossible that the situation should remain much longer in the present condition. Now that the District-Attorney is in possession of definite facts, it is believed that he will act with prompiness and energy, and that several important arrests must surely be the outcome of the investigation. THE IRON-BOUND OATHS.

The suspicion, which has also been alluded to in The Evening World, that the machinery of the Clan-na-Gael, with its iron-bound caths and secret methods, was employed by the conspirators to carry out their murder-nus designs against Dr. Cronin is daily gaining ground.

at designs against Dr. Cronin is daily gaining ground.

At first this was hard to believe, for none of the reputable members of the organization could conceive that the authority of the order could be put to such uses, and although they were convinced that the assassins were smployed by members of the order, the general opinion was that only two or three were concerned in the foul plot.

WHERE THE SECRET TRIAL WAS HELD. The discovery has been made, however, that the North Side camp, of Chicago, was in some degree interested in the conspiracy, and the suspicion is that the secret trial at which Dr. Cronin and others were. ondemned to death was held at the insance of this branch, and the proceedings controlled by Cronin's enemies were formal and regular and in accordance with the practices of the Order.

The instigators of the conspiracy relied upon their influential position and prominence to ward off suspicion, and had not Gromin's body been discovered it is the general opinion that they would have been enabled to do this successfully. The steel-ribbed oath of their accomplices protected them from any squealing on the part of those who were hired to do the terrible work.

The fact that Dr. Cronin had evidence in his possession which would enable him not only to throw them down from their high places, but to put a good many of them inside the walls of a prison, is said to be reason enough for taking violent means to put him out of the way.

A well-known Irishman of this city said today: ALMOST SECURE FROM DETECTION.

A well-known Irishman of this city said today:

"I regard the evidence which is now beginning to come out implicating the Chicago
'triangle' in this foul nurder as most important, and it is only surprising to me how long this clique habeen able to concea its dishonesty and to cover up the evidences of its villatiny. The peculiar secrecy and revolatiously methods of the Clanna Gael have no dount contributed to this result; but, now that the facts are leaking ou one by one, it would not be strange if the whole history of this organization was before long laid before the public.

THE PHENIX PARK MURDERS.

THE PHIENIX PARK MURDERS. "The Phoenix Park murders have always been a mystery, and if the truth were known, there is no doubt in my mind that the Clanaa-Gael would be found to have played a very sorive part in that conspiracy.

"The same sort of desperadoes were employed to execute the sentence of the secret pomnities in that affair as in the case of Dr. coolin, and there are always plenty of men to be found who will for a small reward become murderers and assassins, especially if there is any sentiment of patric isin con-nected with the act.

'In Dr. Cronin's case there is no doubt that the actual assass ns were primed with the idea that he was a traitor to the Irish cause and a despicable spy, and that they were doing a noble work of patriotism to butcher

Instead of that he was more of a than any of them, and they were only carry-ing out the boody revenge of a clique of their victim's personal enemies, who were them-elves the vilest traitors that the Irish

THE ACTUAL ASSASSING.

"As to the actual assassins. I do not be-lieve that any of them were Chicago men. They were ruffians who had been picked up somewhere in the East and were entirely unknown in the vicinity where the crime was committed. This was the safest way, as the conspirators well knew, to screen them-selves as well as to prevent the discovery of all traces of the crime.

salves as well as to prevent the discovery or all traces of the crime.

"They probably all of them left Chicago as soon as the crime was executed, and it is only their accomplices who have been thus far discovered. Somebody made a mistake, or the disappearance of Dr. Cronin wou d still be one of the unsolved mysteries which are so numerous in the records of crime."

Warden Durston hasn't the appearance of man wise would delight in the taking of a life, even as a matter of duty, and it is more than probable that he will delegate the man-ipulation of the switch which will turn to deadly afternating electric current through Murderer's Kemmler's body to one less soft-

He replied that while Ticarr just ached to have a hand in the making of the machine which will launch Kemmler into eternity, it which will launch Kemmler into eternity, it was thought best to leave the matter to the experts who have conducted the tests.

"The trouble with Trearr," said the Warden, "is that he makes machines of such a complicated character that only he can operate them. Shortly after 1 o clock the boy pulled the cord that held the drapery of red, white, and blue, and exposed the monument to view.

It is a very simple affair, being the bronze statue of a policeman, in uncorm, standing with uplifted hand, on a square base, upon which are inscribed on one side the words:

'In the name of the people of Illinois I command peace," used by Capt. Ward on the night of the massacre, when he ordered the rioters to disperse, and on the other the inscription: 'Dedicated by Chicago, May 4, 1889, to her defenders in the riot o: May 4, 1886."

Mayor Cregier accepted the monument in beha f of the city, and introduced Franklin H. Head, who made the address of the occa-

LITTLE ALBERT ROBINSON'S SKULL FRAC-TURED AT PLAY.

The Boys Were Larking on a Hill When Albert Either Fell or Was Pushed Down and His Forehead Struck a Sharp Stone -He Is Likely to Die-Ten-Year-Old Frank Smith Arrested and Locked Up.

A youthful prisoner was arraigned before Justice Murray in the Harlem Police Court this morning, charged with pushing another boy down a hill and causing injuries to the latter which may result in his death.

It appears that several boys were playing on a hill on One Hundred and Tenth street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues yesterday afternoon.

Among them were Albert Robinson, a boy seven years old and Frank Smith, a youngster

Robinson was standing looking at some men building a sewer in the neighborhood when, as some allege, Smith came behind him and in a spirit of playfulness and deviltry pushed him down the bank. Others say the boy tell down.

Robinson struck his forehead on a sharp stone and dented his skull. He was taken to the Ninety-ninth Street Hospital, and it was found that he had sustained a compound fracture.

Justice Murray looked sternly at the culprit this morning and then asked:
Young man, did you push Albert Robinson down the hill?"

son down the hill?"

The boy was as cool as a cucumber as he answered: "No, sir: I wasn't within six feet of him when he fe.! down."

"Fell down?" echoed the Judge,

"Yes, sir. We were all looking at some men building a sewer, when a wild horse, that we had been teasing a little while before, made a rush for us, and Robinson got frightened and fell down. I didn't push him at all."

at all."

There were no witnesses present to prove the boy's statement, and the Judge was compared to a season the result of pel ed to lock him up to await the result of hobinson's injuries.

The latter was on a fair way to recovery when an Evening World reporter called at the hospital this morning.

House Surgeon Moore declined to express any opinion as to the result of the injury.

The fracture is on the forehead just above the left eye. The bone was pressing on the brain and the physicians decided to remove t by treph ning.

This was done and if Albert recovers, which he seems likely to do, he will live for the rest he seems likely to do, he will live for the rest of his life minus a square inch of his skull, He will always be in danger, for should any sharp instrument happen to penetrate the wound it will kill him.

It is said that there was no quarrel between the boys. Both live in the same house on One Hundred and Ninth street, between Tenth avenue and the Boulevard.

this addition to her fold, and she told a reporter of THE EVENING WORLD this morning that she could make nothing out of him. The boy is a sturdy little chap, who, judging from his size, is nearer five than three years old. He has red cheeks, a well-tanned forehead, and a big head, and looks as if he could tell a great deal more about himself than any one has yet been able to get out of him.

His white dress and pina ore are neat and clean and his manner and appearance are those of a child who has been well brought up and properly taken care of.

At first he would say nothing about himfelf, and even now they have not found out what his name is.

This morning when Mrs. Webb was questiening him he volunteered the information:

When asked his name he refused to tell it, but said "yes" when asked if it was Jimmy. He make the same answer when asked if it

When the reporter went away Jimmy was playing contentedly on the floor with a box of blocks and two sheets of colored paper.

He said he was having a good time, and apparently he spoke the truth.

CLIFTON'S FIRE-BUG SCARE

TWO SUSPICIOUS BLAZES IN THE TOWN WITHIN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

Two fires within forty-eight hours have con inced the good people of Clifton, N. J., that fire-bugs are at work in their quiet little village.

A barn rented by Olney Brothers, the racehorse owners, was burned Tuesday night at a loss of $2,000. That, it is alleged, was incendiary fire No. 1.

About 2 o'clock this morning the "rocery store of Postmaster James Brick on Main street, about one hundred feet from where the other fire occurred, was found to be on fire. The flames started inside the building, which was a one-story frame structure, and spread to the new building occupied by Eiser & Mackey, printers, which adjoined.

Both houses were entirely consumed with their contents. A large amount of mail matter was also de-stroyed, as the post-office was in Mr. Brick's grocery store.

The loss is estimated at $1,500, and is fully The loss is estimated at $1,500, and is fully covered by insurance.

The store would have surely caught fire on Tuesday night from the burning building had not the wind changed to another direction.

Postmaster Brick has the sympathy of his fellow-citizens because of his missortune more especially as it is said he had not been doing well in business of late. He is a young man, and was married six months ago.

He is an ardent sumier of good horsefiesh, and often went to bee if any could be found on the Clifton race-frack.
